Tools Required

Working pad, plastic bag, newspaper, adhesive tape, side cutter (wire cutter), scissors, protective gloves, disposable protective gloves, (water) bucket, soft bristle brush, (water) vessel, paper towel

Fill a plastic bag with old newspapers and close with a knot. For better stability you can add sand or pebbles.

Cut wire mesh to desired size, bend to cap.

Correlate cap circumference with body girth.

Cut a piece of modelling bandage and moisten in a water vessel.

Attach modelling bandages to gnome body (filled plastic bag). Wrap body completely.

For better attachment at lower edge, wrap moist modelling bandages around mesh cap.

7 Fix body and cap with more modelling bandages.

8 Fasten polystyrene ball (nose) with modelling bandages to cap edge.

9 Wrap mesh cap completely with modelling bandages. Allow to dry for 1 - 2 days.

10 Separate uppermost printed layer of serviette from two lower layers. Cut serviette to desired size (according to gnome size). Place backside of uppermost layer of the serviette on the gnome body. Carefully apply deco glue on the serviette with the bristle brush starting from the center. Use a soft bristle brush. Glue serviette to the whole gnome body. Allow to dry overnight.

11 Spray gnome cap with paint. Allow to dry overnight.

12 Use jute yarn for bow and moustache. Cut to desired length, make a knot and fix with glue gun or glue.
